DEDICATION

Peter Goshgarian and Geraldine B. Calcagni

The class of 1985 dedicates its yearbook to two people who have devoted their lives to the teaching profession. Between them, they have a total of 60 years of teaching experience, 44 years in the Rutland system.

Mrs. Calcagni came to us as a part-time reading teacher at Longfellow school in 1969. Although she also worked briefly at the Vocational Center, most of her career has been spent at the Upper House teaching English and Reading.

Mr. Goshgarian has taught a variety of Business courses at Rutland High since 1957. He has served as Department Head and School Treasurer for several years.

Rutland High will miss these two fine professionals, but their influence on our lives will remain with us always.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"That which does not kill me, makes me strong."
-Neitzche

Well, Rutland High School hasn't killed any of us yet, but I think we all feel very much stronger for the experiences of the past four years. We have shared the good times and the great times (for those are all we'll recall in ten years!) The faculty and administration of R.H.S. have guided us to an education to be proud of. We leave proudly, knowing that each one of us has been strengthened.

LOWER HOUSE STUDENT COUNCIL

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the Rutland Historical Society and the Rutland Free Library.

SENIOR WILL 1985

I, Vicki Adams, leave all of my decieving abilities to Traci Mondella in hopes that she has as good of luck with them, also I leave the moon behind me!

I, Angela Alexander, leave what's left of my brain to my brother, Joey, for he is going to need it.

I, FranCaine Amsden, leave to Mr. Spear a pair of stronger eyeglasses because he never saw me sneak into homeroom late. Also some beefcake to Gail!

I, Carolyn Banse, leave my entire lipstick supply to John Daly and Jeff Semp and I leave my "chew-on" T-shirt to Senan Murdock. Finally my bible of Womens liberation to Greg.

I, Daryl Belock, leave a cute cuddly Heiny to the Swords and to any chuckbusting marksman, I leave all the woodchucks on my land.

I, Gail Brisson, leave the Pink Cadillac and the Little Yellow Chevette to the fellow Bruce-iacs of the Universe.

I, Bill Brislin, leave Rutland willingly and leave my mile warmups to Jill Joyce.

I, Beth Brown, will my Basketweaving skills to Mrs. Kelley's Algebra students who are as desparate as I was to use them.

I, J.R. Bullock, leave all my jokes to the humorless juniors and leave Mr. B. to anyone who wants him.

I, Patty Cahee, leave my excuses & ability to talk my way out of any situation, and to my brother and sister, my patience.

I, Chuck Cameron, leave my football talents to Tom Franzoni, because he will need it when Mr. Keefe gets through with him.

I, Adaw, with a little help from Joe leave my perverted thoughts to Feona.

I, Marie Carroll, leave my glazed gaze to Sue D. because it can't be captured on film, and my red & grey sweater to Argy.

I, Rita Cendrowski, leave all my crazy times at RHS to my cousin Christine in hopes she will be as crazy.

I, Michele Chadburn, leave my telephone and future plans to Shap and my ability to contradict Sid to Chris Martin, who gets to carry on the tradition for 2 more years.

I, Paul Cillo, leave through the Doors of Perception.

I, Ian Coates, leave my dreaded Saturday morning sufferings to all the straight boys and girls of RHS.

I, Sam Coccia, leave my grades to Tracey Lambert, anything is an improvement.

I, Chris Conklin, leave the Brown Fox my immortality so he may eternally flourish in ultimate wierdness.

I, Sean Coppinger, leave my ability to get hurt during football practice, to anyone who thinks they can do as good of a job as I have done.

I, Lynda Cox, leave Dao to Dawn Dellveneri, also I leave my tapes to Larry Patin and my moped to Lisa Tuliper.

I, Stephanie Creed, leave my outstanding Spanish abilities and my fingernails to Kelly Keefe.

I, Sheila Cummings, leave to the school all my books and to Cindy Lacroix my grades. To my friends still in school I leave my memories and good luck.

I, Jeffrey Cushman, leave behind the bad moments of studies for all the tests and move ahead to better new times.

I, Julie Czachor, leave History oral reports to my sister, Michelle.

I, Michael Davidson, will my managerial position to anyone foolish enough to take it.

I, Frank Driggers, being of sound mind and body, leave my extraordinary partying abilities to Joshua Klein.

I, Scott DuBray, being a barbarian shall hoarde all my possessions.

I, Debra Dufore, leave everything of mine, that has to do with this school, to my sister Charlotte!

I, Greg Durgin, gratefully deadicate Terrapin Station to Stewart Jensen.

I, Wendy Tayler, leave my pink sunglasses and wool socks to Stacey Dikeman, and my house for someone to carry on the tradition of parties.

I, Gina Terkla, leave Bobbing for joy, while Becky Toddles, Mary Chuckles and Debbie says her Creed.

I, Dawn Thornton, leave all my Finesse hairspray to Missy McMahon and my Parking space at B.K. for anyone who wants to use it.

I, Steven C.J. Welsh, leave to anyone with the right money: my Physics lab reports, my Rolling Stones tapes, "The Kicking Game" and a bottle of Panadol.

I, Sarah Wheeler, leave Stacey Dikeman a severe case of Brendaitis for next year and my bicycle to ride for exercise.

I, Chris Whitehair, leave my drafting abilities to Mr. Maquire.

I, Jim Whitney being of sound mind and body, leave my fantastic taste in music to Phil Gaechter in hope that he will listen to good music.

I, Marc Williams, leave my creaping, crawling, chundering, rambling, destructive, outraging and partying experiences to any sophomore crazy enough to carry on the tradition.

I, Alan Wisell, leave my ability to abscond to all those in need.

I, Margie Withington, leave my clumbsyness to Marjorie Sweeten.

I, Cindy Wood, leave the memory of my "Changing Voice" to Mrs. Etzler and my silence to the future study halls of RHS.

I, Kelly Wyman, leave Larry Patton and Tim Nickerson in the care of Mrs. Patterson.

I, Michelle Zeitfuss, leave the great institution known as RHS to all upcoming seniors so they may enjoy all its wonderful educational experience.

I, Chris Ziegler, leave my mad dog tactics to Donald Wharton, and my cheap shots to Dave Pezzetti.

I, Heidi Zoesch, leave all of Led Zeppelin to Tonia Cannizarro and my Ritz crackers to Andy Jackson.
